

Getting Started

Check delivery

Please check the product and the delivery to ensure they are complete and free from any visible damage caused during transit. Do not use damaged products.

Identify product

With QR code

Scan the QR code on the type plate on the device or on the packaging. It will take you to the product page, the downloads section or open the relevant instructions directly.

Without QR code

If there is no QR code on the device or the packaging, go to the website "( keb-automation.com)" and click on the magnifying glass icon in the header. The downloads section will open.

Enter the 11-digit item number from the device's type plate or the packaging, then click on 'Search'.

Download the documentation

On the results page, you will find the technical documentation for your product, sorted by category.

The website provides the latest documents. Older issues are available on request from KEB.

Once you have downloaded the documentation for your product, please read the user manual carefully, paying particular attention to the safety instructions and warnings.

If you have any further questions, please contact your designated sales representative.
